

Peer review policy

Articles submitted for publication in MAJ has to undergo rigorous peer review process based on initial editor screening and refereeing by two referees. The ultimate purpose of peer review is to sustain the originality and quality of research work and filtration of poor quality and plagiarized articles. Peer review assures research quality.

Peer Review Policy

Open access

The publisher being students' centric and non-profit organization, and is committed to the availability of scholarly research articles and review articles accessible by every researcher and general public. The journal and back volumes are completely open access.